

Product Description

FlexJet connectors represent a flexible way to extend the capabilities of our popular AirJet™ line of Snap-Lock™ gas vent systems.

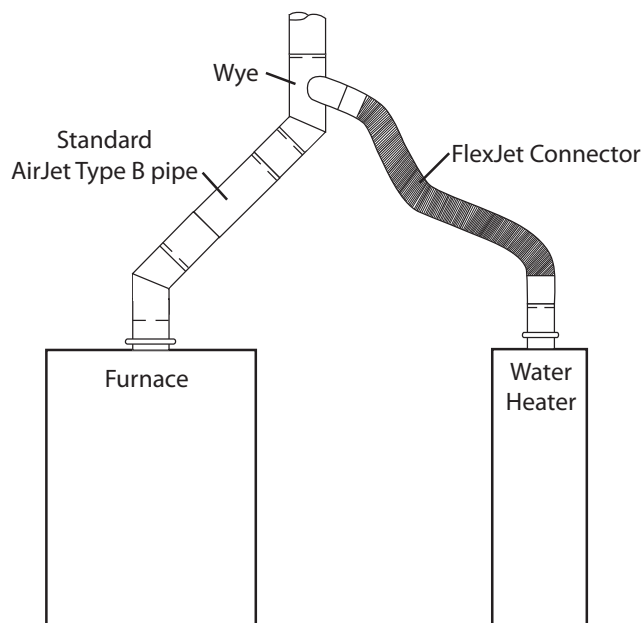

FlexJet connectors replace rigid gas vent components with more versatile, flexible segments. The product is appropriate for use wherever double-wall, Type B gas vent is required. Using these segments can greatly simplify installation by allowing an offset between rigid sections of pipe.

Models are available in double-wall construction and in the most popular sizes to ensure success on your next project.

Buy the products with standard AirJet Snap-Lock connectors on each end OR with a universal female adapter on one end. Both connectors are UL Listed.
